It began as an act of philanthropy in the aftermath of the super cyclone that devastated Orissa in 1999. A modest Technical Education Centre, established by Dr Pramod Chandra Rath, has since blossomed into a full-fledged university, currently imparting education to over 6000 students.

Odisha had a glorious history but, over the last five hundred years it became known for natural calamities and destitution. Education and access to skills and training were urgently required to break the cycle and provide new opportunities to the youth.

The DRIEMS University, created under an Act of the Odisha Assembly in 2023, has been a major initiative of the private sector. On the happy occasion of the 2nd Convocation of the University we recognise the vision of Dr Rath, his dedication to public causes and his commendable generosity.

I extend my felicitations to the young graduates and other scholars as they begin a new and exciting chapter in their lives. May your future be filled with purpose, and may you carry forward the spirit of service and excellence that is embodied in the DRIEMS University.

Honoris Causa Degree recipients, Gold Medal Winners, graduating students of the class of 2024-25; Distinguished guests, Faculty Members, Officers, Staff Members, Proud Parents, Print & Electronic Media, Ladies and Gentlemen;

With immense pride and heartfelt joy, I welcome you all to the Second Convocation of DRIEMS University. This is a moment of celebration, reflection, and renewed commitment to nurturing talent, fostering innovation, and contributing to the betterment of society.

We are deeply honoured by the gracious presence of Visitor of the University His Excellency, the Hon'ble Governor of Odisha, whose unwavering commitment towards education and youth empowerment continue to inspire institutions across the state.

We are equally privileged to welcome our Chief Guest, Ambassador Sj. Lalit Mansingh, a distinguished diplomat and statesman, whose service as Foreign Secretary and Ambassador to the USA & High Commissioner to the UK has significantly strengthened India's global engagement. Sir, your presence today is a great source of inspiration to our graduates.

I am delighted to inform you that Honoris Causa degrees will be conferred upon Padmashri Madam Tulasi Munda and Padmashri Prof. (Dr.) Damayanti Beshra for their outstanding contributions to promoting Education and Empowerment of the tribal Community of ODISHA and promoting Santhali Literature & Social Welfare respectively. We are grateful for their acceptance and for gracing this occasion.

Today is a proud day when 698 students will receive their degrees across diverse programmes, and 18 Gold Medals will be awarded. My heartiest congratulations to all our graduates. This convocation marks the end of one journey and the beginning of another—of leadership, service, and lifelong learning.

DRIEMS University is named after Pujya Dhaneswar Rath's historic journey from freedom fighter to educator finds its vibrant continuations in his son, Dr. Pramod Chandra Rath, who has passionately expanded the DRIEMS legacy into a multifaceted beacon of global learning. It was established on 15th November 2023 under The DRIEMS University Odisha Act, 2022. In a short span, we have grown into a comprehensive university with over 7,000 students, 13 academic schools, and more than 75 academic programmes. The recent addition of the School of Agriculture reflects our commitment to rural development and national priorities.

The University houses the 650-bedded Padmini Care Hospital, a state-of-the-art healthcare facility that serves as a strong pillar of clinical education and patient care. The DRIEMS Institute of Health Sciences and Hospital is presently running the MBBS programme with its third batch in progress, admitting 100 students annually. Further strengthening its academic stature, the Institute has secured affiliation this year to commence postgraduate medical programmes, with an approved intake capacity of 25 seats in 9 specializations.

In alignment with NEP 2020, we have implemented the Academic Bank of Credit, adopted Outcome-Based Education with CO-PO mapping and Bloom's taxonomy, and strengthened transparency by showing evaluated answer scripts to students before declaration of results. These practices promote fairness, accountability, and student confidence.

DRIEMS University continues to strengthen its position as a centre of excellence in education, research, and innovation. I am proud to share that we have been admitted to the Association of Indian Universities, obtained ISO Certification, and earned recognition in the Diamond Band for Mental Health and Wellbeing by R World Institutional Ranking. These achievements reflect our holistic commitment to academic quality and student welfare.

Our research culture is steadily growing. Our faculty and students have published over 276 research papers, filed five patents in the last academic year, and expanded doctoral education across Engineering, Management, Pharmaceutical Sciences, Nursing, and Natural Sciences. This year alone, we welcomed 47 new PhD scholars.

The establishment of the Institution Innovation Cell, Robotics Club, and a strengthened Research and Development Cell is nurturing creativity and interdisciplinary research. We are proud to be recognized as a Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (SIRO) by the Government of India and as a Host Institute for an Incubation Centre under the Ministry of MSME. These initiatives will support innovation, entrepreneurship, and technology transfer.

I am particularly delighted to highlight the achievements of our students and faculty across various schools. The School of Engineering organized an international conference on intelligent computing and contributed to the Multidialectal Pradesh Odia Speech Repository under the national AI initiative AIKosh. ATAL-sponsored FDPs, industry-linked training programmes, and virtual laboratories with IIT Mumbai have strengthened experiential learning.

The School of Allied and Healthcare Sciences has enhanced its academic standing by organizing a landmark National Conference-cum-Hands-on Workshop on Brachial Plexus Birth Injury. The school also earned the prestigious "Recognition of Excellence" award at OTICON 2026, organized by the All-India Occupational Therapists' Association (AIOTA), a founding council member of the World Federation of Occupational Therapists (WFOT).

The School of Management conducted a national conference on Sustainable Business Practices: A Roadmap to Viksit Bharat 2047. The School of Professional Studies successfully organized a Boot Camp Programme in Big Data and Data Science under Ministry of Electronics & Information Technology (MeitY) which aims to prepare the next generation tech leaders and innovators. The School of Pharmacy successfully organized a DBT-CTEP national conference, and our pharmacy students excelled in national innovation competitions. The School of Nursing recently organized an international conference on research design and ethics, and one of our students secured the first prize at the SNAI National Conference 2025.

During the last academic year, we signed six active MoUs with industry, research organizations, and government bodies, strengthening internships, training, research collaboration, and industry-aligned curricula.

I would like to acknowledge the role of Dr. Pramod Chandra Rath, Founder Chairman whose visionary leadership created and transformed a rural technical institute in to a multi disciplinary university encompassing Engineering, Management, Pharmacy, Nursing, Allied Health Sciences and a teaching hospital committed to excellence in education, healthcare, research and community services.

Dear graduates, the world you are entering is filled with opportunities and challenges alike. Your success will depend not only on knowledge and skills, but also on integrity, empathy, and courage. Be bold in your ideas, ethical in your actions, and humble in your achievements. Let your education empower you to become innovators, leaders, and responsible citizens.

I express my sincere gratitude to our faculty for their dedication, to parents for their trust, and to all stakeholders for their support. On this proud occasion, I once again congratulate our Honoris Causa recipients and all our graduates. May you carry forward the values and legacy of DRIEMS University with pride and purpose.

Thank you all.

2nd Convocation Address of DRIEMS University, Tangi, 31st January 2026

By Ambassador Lalit Mansingh

Former Foreign Secretary of India

Your Excellency the Governor of Odisha, Honorable Dr. Hari Babu Kambhampati; Dr. Pramod Chandra Rath, Chairman, DRIEMS University; Professor Prakash Kumar Hota, Vice Chancellor; Padma Shri Tulsi Munda; Padma Shri Damayanti Beshra; senior officials of DRIEMS University; recipients of gold medals and degrees; distinguished guests; ladies and gentlemen.

I am deeply honoured to stand before this distinguished gathering and extend my heartfelt gratitude to DRIEMS University for inviting me to deliver this convocation address. The theme of my remarks today is Odisha: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow. I will resist the temptation to recount the well-known glories of ancient Kalinga—the maritime exploits of the Sadhabas, or the kingdoms of Kharavela, the Sailodbhavas, the Kesaris, the Gangas and the Gajapatis. Those stories you have heard many times. Instead, I wish to take you back just a century, to reflect on what Odisha has achieved since then, and what lies ahead in the coming decades.

Yesterday: A Century Ago

A hundred years ago, India was still under colonial rule, and Odisha was not yet a separate state. Despite its illustrious past, Odisha was mired in poverty and hardship. Natural calamities—cyclones, floods, famines, and epidemics—ravaged the land repeatedly.

Exactly a hundred years ago, in 1926, a young student of Khordha High School wrote a poignant poem titled ମୋ' ଭେଣା :

ଯାଇଛି ନଗର, ଶିଖ ଯାଇଛି ମା, ରାଜ୍ୟ, ଧନ ସବୁ
ଭାଗ୍ୟ ଯୋଗୁ ସିଂହ ଶିଶୁ ହୋଇଛନ୍ତି ଖରେ ପରିଶର
ଅତି ଅନୁନ୍ନତ ।

“Oh Mother!

We have lost all; our kingdom, our cities and our manufacturing. Misfortune has turned our lion cubs into beasts of burden. We remain the exceedingly undeveloped.”

His closing line, Ati Anunnata — “exceedingly undeveloped”—was a tragic reflection of Odisha’s destiny then. Poverty was inescapable, education scarce, and opportunities almost non-existent.

The First Steps Forward

Yet, even amidst despair, the foundations for progress were being laid:

- 1936: Odisha was carved out of Bihar, becoming the permanent homeland of the Odia people.
- 1946: The Hirakud Dam was built, a symbol of resilience against floods and famine.
- 1953: Rourkela saw the establishment of India’s first integrated steel plant.
- 1967: Universities in Berhampur and Sambalpur expanded access to higher education.

These milestones were impressive, but their impact on the wider population was limited. Odisha had moved from Ati Anunnata to simply Anunnata—still underdeveloped, but with a glimmer of hope.

Today: The Past 50 Years

The turning point for India came in 1991, with the launch of economic reforms. Freed from the shackles of the license raj, our entrepreneurs ignited an economic revolution. Today, India is positioned as the world's fourth-largest economy.

The three major sectors of the economy are:

Agriculture: Engages 60% of the population but contributes only 18% of GDP.

Manufacturing: Accounts for 17% of GDP. It is poised for dramatic growth following new Free Trade Agreements with major economies like Australia, Japan, UAE, and most recently, the European Union. The biggest yet—the Indo-US bilateral trade agreement—will hopefully be concluded soon.

Services: The most spectacular growth has been in the services sector, now accounting for over 50% of GDP. The star performers are the Global Capability Centres (GCCs). They are expanding into Tier-2 cities and their focus on tourism—especially medical and spiritual tourism—opens vast opportunities for Odisha.

The message for India is clear. The agriculture sector needs radical reforms. Manufacturing has to expand exponentially with greater application of high technology and AI. And the services sector needs encouragement and nourishing.

The Vision for Tomorrow: Samruddha Odisha

Odisha has kept pace with the transformation of the national economy. NALCO in 1981 emerged as one of India's largest bauxite-aluminium complexes. Institutions such as NISER (2006), IIT Bhubaneswar (2008), NIFT (2009), and AIIMS Bhubaneswar (2012) have strengthened the state's academic and healthcare infrastructure.

At a recent event in Kolkata, the Chief Minister of Odisha, Shri Mohan Charan Majhi, unveiled his vision of a Samruddha Odisha 2036—the centenary year of Odisha's foundation. This vision inspires us all.

As we look forward, we should however, remind ourselves that prosperity must not come at the cost of sustainability. Indiscriminate mining of coal, sand, iron ore, bauxite and other minerals leads to environmental degradation and pollution.

My appeal to you, the young scholars of DRIEMS University, is this: use the knowledge and skills you have acquired here—your natural intelligence, and yes, even artificial intelligence—to solve these pressing problems and make the world a better place. I have confidence that Samruddha Odisha will become a reality within the next decade because you, the graduates of today, will be the stakeholders in this great enterprise.

India, US and the Global Platform

I have so far spoken about Odisha and India. Having spent 41 years as a diplomat, serving as India's ambassador on four continents, allow me a few reflections on India's place in the world.

How important is India on the global platform? Let me give an illustration from personal experience. I was posted to Washington as Deputy Chief of Mission in the early 1990s. You may ask:

was India important to the US at that time? Yes and no. India was respected as a civilisational power and for democracy, but not seen as strategically important. The US leadership was happy to extend aid but did not have any particular strategic interest in India.

Ten years later, I was in Washington again but this time as the Ambassador. The change in the attitude of the US administration was remarkable—India had become the toast of the town!

Why? In my view there were four important factors.

1. Indian-origin citizens in America—then numbering around three million—had excelled in almost any profession in the US: engineering, medicine, academics, business, science and technology.
2. India with 7–8% GDP growth was beginning to be seen by US corporations as a multi-billion-dollar market.
3. Indian Americans began entering politics. The community has so far contributed a Vice President and several Governors, Mayors, and Members of Congress. Today, Mr. J D Vance, a son-in-law of India, serves as Vice President of the United States.
4. As stable and increasingly prosperous India emerged as a credible counterweight to an aggressive China in the Indo-Pacific.

The new status of India culminated in the landmark Indo-US strategic agreement of 2008 and was followed by similar partnerships with other major powers.

There are expanding numbers of people of Indian origin who have achieved distinction across the globe. In countries like Guyana, Suriname, Trinidad, Fiji and Mauritius, people of Indian origin have frequently held the posts of president or prime minister. The phenomenon is now spreading to the Western democracies too. The most recent examples are Prime Minister Varadkar in Ireland and Prime Minister Rishi Sunak in the United Kingdom. Many of you may have noted that Mr Costa, the President of the European Union, who the Chief Guest this year at the Republic Day celebrations in Delhi, flashed an Overseas Indian Citizen's card, because his parents had come from Goa!

Is India a global power?

Ten years ago, I would have said a qualified yes but, today, my response is a categorical yes. The country has strategic partnerships with over 30 major countries. India recently chaired the G20, a group of 20 states and entities that dominate the world. We are welcomed at all high tables of global leadership.

The world is currently going through a period of turmoil and uncertainty. The global order prevailing since WW11 is crumbling. US, the ruling hegemon and China, the challenger are competing for global leadership. By the end of the century and within your lifetime, I foresee that the US, China and India will assume a form of tri-polar leadership of the world.

Tributes

I must pause to acknowledge Dr Pramod Rath, the visionary founder of DRIEMS University. Just as kings and maharajas once built magnificent temples, Dr Rath has built a temple of learning that now nurtures 7,000 young citizens of the future.

I also pay tribute to Padma Shri Tulasi Munda and Padma Shri Damayanti Beshra—legendary figures who have dedicated their lives to the education and welfare of our Adivasi brothers and sisters.

A Personal Note

I began my remarks with the words of a schoolboy from Khordha a century ago. You may wonder what became of him. He pursued his studies in India and abroad and became an educator, poet, and writer. He was my father, Dr. Mayadhar Mansingh. He foresaw a bright future for Odisha, and today, his vision resonates more than ever.

I conclude with lines from an anthem he wrote in 1941 for his students at Athgarh High School:

ଚାଲରେ ଚାଲ ଆଗେଇ ଚାଲ

ବିଘ୍ନ ବିପଦ ନମାନି ଚାଲ

ନାଶିବ ବିପଦ ହୋଇ ମାଶାଲ ।

March forward, always marching ahead.
Do not by adversities be overwhelmed.
Become the flame; destroy the dangers.
March forward, march forward!

Thank you for the opportunity to address you today.

Bande Utkala Janani. Bande Mataram. Jai Hind.

Ambassador Lalit Mansingh

Speech of Dr.Hari Babu Kambhampati, Hon'ble Governor of Odisha for 2nd Convocation Ceremony of DRIEMS University, Cuttack at Jayashree Auditorium, DRIEMS University, Tangi, Cuttack on 31st January 2026 at 03.00 PM.

I am happy and proud to be here on this solemn and joyful occasion of the Second Convocation of DRIEMS University. At the very outset, I extend my warmest congratulations to all the graduating students. You have worked hard, stayed focused and persevered through challenges to reach this important milestone. Today is your day of achievement, reflection and new beginnings.

I am delighted to share this platform with the Chief Guest, Dr. Lalit Mansingh ji, former Foreign Secretary of India. He is a distinguished diplomat and statesman who have served our nation with rare distinction, integrity and wisdom. His contributions to India's foreign policy and international relations have strengthened our country's global standing. His presence here today adds great value and inspiration to this convocation.

I also extend my heartfelt congratulations to today's recipients of the honorary degrees Padmashree Tulasi Munda Ji and Padmashree Damayanti Beshra Ji. Tulasi Munda Ji is widely respected as a symbol of dedication to education, especially for tribal and underprivileged children. Her lifelong service has transformed countless lives through learning and empowerment. Damayanti Beshra ji, a renowned writer and social reformer, has enriched Indian literature and worked tirelessly to preserve tribal culture, language and identity. Both these eminent personalities remind us that true greatness lies in service to society and commitment to human values.

Convocation is not merely an event or a ceremony. It is a moment of transition from guided learning to independent responsibility, from student life to professional and civic life. Dear graduates, you are stepping into a world that is changing faster than ever before. Technology, artificial intelligence, climate change, global health challenges and shifting social structures are reshaping how we live and work. These changes bring new challenges, but they also open new doors of opportunity. The future will belong to those who are willing to learn continuously, adapt quickly and act responsibly. Be open to change, be prepared for the future and always stay connected with the values that define you.

In this context, the National Education Policy 2020 is a visionary step towards preparing our youth for the demands of the 21st century. NEP 2020 emphasizes multidisciplinary education, flexibility, skill development, critical thinking, creativity, ethics and holistic growth. It seeks to move beyond rote learning and nurture thoughtful, innovative and socially responsible citizens. This policy is designed not only to meet the challenges of the present but also to equip students for the uncertainties of the future.

I commend DRIEMS University for sincerely adopting and implementing the spirit of NEP 2020. The university has taken meaningful steps towards outcome based education, multidisciplinary learning, industry collaboration, research, innovation and entrepreneurship. I also congratulate the institution on its remarkable journey from a single undergraduate engineering programme to a reputed multidisciplinary university. Established in challenging times, DRIEMS was founded with a vision of education as a tool for social reconstruction and regional development. Today, it stands as a comprehensive higher education institution offering diverse programmes across engineering, management, health sciences, agriculture, humanities and more, serving thousands of students on a vast campus. This transformation reflects commitment, leadership and a deep sense of social responsibility.

Dear students, while academic excellence is essential, character is equally important. Knowledge without values is incomplete. True success in life is not measured only by position, power or wealth, but by integrity, compassion, humility and service. Being a good human being is the highest achievement. Let honesty guide your actions, empathy shape your relationships and responsibility define your decisions. Respect others, care for the environment and contribute positively to your community and nation.

Remember that learning does not end with this degree. Education is a lifelong journey. Stay curious, keep questioning and never stop improving yourselves. Face failures with courage, treat success with humility and remain grounded in your purpose. Use your skills not only for personal advancement but also for the larger good of society.

As graduates of this institution and as young citizens of Odisha and India, you carry a responsibility to uphold the values of unity, inclusiveness and service. Whatever path you choose be it industry, entrepreneurship, research, public service or higher studies, let your work reflect dedication, innovation and ethical commitment. Remain connected with your alma mater and contribute to its growth by mentoring, collaborating and supporting future generations.

Before I conclude, I once again congratulate all the graduates, medalists, and awardees. I sincerely appreciate the efforts of the faculty, staff, leadership and parents who have played a vital role in shaping these young minds. I am confident that you will go forth with confidence, competence and character, and actively contribute to the vision of a Viksit Odisha and a Viksit Bharat, strengthening our state and nation through your talent, integrity and service.

May your lives be guided by purpose, integrity and service. May your learning enlighten minds, your actions uplift society and your achievements bring pride to your families, your university and our country. I wish you all a future filled with success, fulfillment and positive impact.

Thank You, Vande UtkalJanani, Jai Hind.
